Informed Consent:

Chiropractic is system of health care delivery and therefore, as with any health care delivery system, we cannot promise a cure for any symptoms, disease or condition as a result of treatment in this office. We will always give you our best care and if results are not acceptable, we will recommend another provider whom we feel will assist your condition.

The most common type of adverse reaction to spinal manipulation is some degree of stiffness or soreness that may occur following the first few days of the initial treatment. This is equivalent to the soreness you would experience after initiating a new exercise program. Such soreness typically subsides following the first two or three treatments. Should the soreness continue after this period, it is your duty to report it to us. We cannot properly treat you without clear communication of how you are responding to care.

I understand that in the practice of chiropractic as in the practice of medicine there are some risks. I do not expect the doctors to be able to anticipate and explain all risks and complications. I wish to rely on the doctors to exercise their judgment during the course of the procedures which the doctors feel at the time, based upon the known facts will perform accordingly in my best interest.

I intend this consent form to cover the entire course of treatment for my present reasons for care and for any future conditions for which I may seek treatment at this office. I have read or have had read to me this consent form. I have had an opportunity to ask questions about the information contained herein.
